June Program - "Jo White"

Kids Welcome - Remember the first time you got a watercolor set; the thrill, the anticipation, the absolute joy? This is what Jo White has planned for the Feb workshop. If you have a child 7 and up, or a grandchild, or if you can rent one from a neighbor, please bring them for some inspiration and fun. In Jo's newspaper column, Roaring Mouse, for local papers, Jo has always loved and touted watercolors as the hobby for everyone. For fifteen years Jo had a commercial art business, House of the Holiday Mouse, painting wall murals for restaurants and Christmas windows. Meanwhile, Jo taught art, history, English, Drama and Journalism in public and private high schools. Recently Jo has been teaching watercolors at the Edgewood Community Center and out of her home. This will be a time to find your watercolor heart renewed. Surprises await and I can guarantee a good time will be had by all. Hope to see you there.

July Program: Our traditional program in July is having New Members bring a sample of what they create and tell everyone about yourself. Details on pg 5

July Brushstrokes Deadline

*Submit news for the next Brushstrokes by the end of the day on the 13th of "June" to brushstrokes@nmwatercolorssociety.org or snail-mail it to: Brushstrokes, c/o Woody Duncan 7236 Calle Montana NE, Albuquerque, NM 87113-1277

President's Message

In New Mexico, we truly believe in recycling. So, I agreed to come back as president of NMWS. Mainly, because I care about what we have built and I don't want us to lose the momentum we gained putting on the Western Federation exhibition. I urge other experienced members to consider stepping up to the plate again as well.

The WFWS 36 exhibit, winding down at Expo NM, is a real success. With the help of so many, many members - we demonstrated what we are capable of. A big pat on the back is well deserved by everyone who helped out. NMWS received much deserved praise from our visitors from the other societies. I feel sure we can take that success and that energy to build our membership. Spread the word as wide as possible that the NMWS is the place to be. Where else can one learn so much from the demos at our meetings and from the great artists we bring in to do workshops. But, most of all - we are a community of friends having fun learning together.

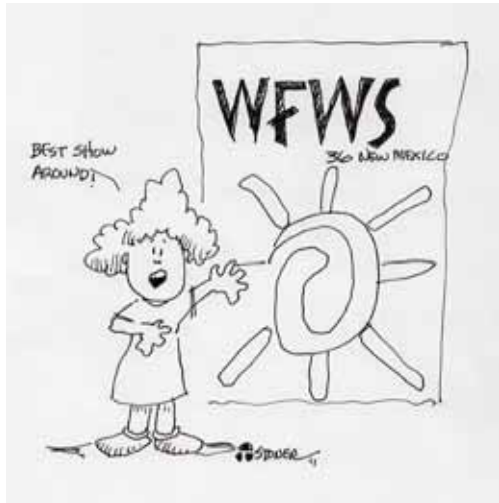

Summer is traditionally a time to recharge our batteries, to travel and hopefully to do some serious painting. As I do every June, I'm headed to Taos to paint and most likely eat way too much. I hope you will be wetting your brush and creating several masterpieces this summer. WFWS is suppose to be a stepping stone to prepare our members for entering national shows. Links to several prospectus are in this issue of Brushstrokes. Give it a try and enter a couple of them. It's a proven scientific fact that you will not be accepted if you never enter. When you are accepted, it will boost your spirits as well as energize your future paintings. I urge you to try.

As I type this column, over half of the frames in the WFWS exhibit have already been spoken for. Teresa Youngblood created those wonderful frames. Check the list hanging at the exhibit to find one or several to frame your next paintings. The listed prices are quite low which includes the plexiglass.

I hope to see everyone at the June and July meetings at the Albuquerque museum. Remember, no meeting or Brushstrokes in August.

Happy Painting ...Woody

Workshops

J. Drummond is offering bite-sized classes this Summer

In July, on the West Mesa, J. K. Drummond will be offering two four-week classes on Sundays, July 10, 17, 24 and 31. Painting Flowers in the mornings, from 9:30 to 12:30. This class focuses on how to paint flowers with vibrancy and light. Still Lifes in the afternoons, from 2:00 to 5:00. This class focuses on learning to paint different materials and objects convincingly. The cost for either class is $135. For info or to register contact Jae at jaek@swcp.com or call (505) 363-2353.

David Drummond, AWS, will be giving a weekend workshop on painting skies and clouds. The workshop will take place June 11th and 12th from 9am to 4 pm at David's studio on the West Mesa. The workshop is geared towards intermediate and advanced painters. Cost $225. For more information or to register contact Priscilla at drummond@swcp.com or call (505) 898-4700

New Mexico Art League

JAKKI KOUFFMAN ACRYLIC LANDSCAPE PAINTING

June 11-12 10:00am-5:00pm Tuition: $235

This two-day intensive workshop will focus on painting the landscape in acrylic. The class will detail ways to combine acrylic paints with liquid mediums, solid gels and opaque pastes. Special attention will be paid to methods for altering viscosity (thickness), texture and drying time. Employing brushes, painting knives and a limited palette, each student will utilize personal source material, such as photographs or masterworks, as starting points for in-class exercises. Daily demonstrations will be combined with individual and group critiques. All skill levels and painting styles are welcome. www.jakkikouffman.com

Karin Pitman will be offering both basic drawing and ink/watercolor sketching classes starting in mid-June. Please contact her at karinmp@prodigy.net or 270-2380 if interested. Times, days, locations and costs to be determined.

Passion, Process and Purpose

This workshop is fashioned for the student who is interested in refining and strengthening personal style, exploring intuitive painting and becoming more emotionally expressive in his or her own work. Moving between realism and abstraction, painting with simple elegance or layered complexity; experimentation with texture, shape and color may bring about new insights and confidence in designing more powerful work. Daily demonstrations will attempt to show how subject matter may be discovered and developed into a finished painting. Each student is invited to bring up to 5 paintings for individual discussion during the 4 days we have together. I look forward to being in Albuquerque again!

Dale Laitinen Workshop

I don't know if it was because of our working lunches, having a building to ourselves, or the ice cream, but I honestly think this was the best workshop ever! Actually, we had a darn good teacher. Yes, Dale was focused. He was there to teach. And everyone was there to listen....His method: "Line to edge to shape to interesting shapes". How do you do this? Here's one way. Look at your painting. How is it subdivided? Is there movement? Angles? Remember, the basic element of art is line. In other words, work on your substructure first and you color second.

I want to thank Nina, Kathy, Fred, Rosemary, Dave C, Karin C, Linda, Christine, Laurie, Mick, Daniel, Lynette, Harriet, Karin P, Marilyn, Kay, Sid, Nita, Susan, and Julie for attending. You are all talented artists. I especially want to thank Dave and Carolyn Collis for helping me put this workshop on. I had a ball!

Sincerely, Jude Rudder Retiring Workshop Chair

*Plan ahead.....
Here's a list of upcoming workshops*

Ann Smith October 4 - 7, 2011

Ann taught a MasterWorks workshop in 2009 and was asked to come back. Her workshop will concentrate on refining personal style and expression in your work.

Betty Carr May 8 - 11, 2012

Workshop will be in impressionism, brushwork, and good use of lights and darks.

Carl Dalio Oct. 2 - 5, 2012

Architect by trade, then turned artist. Class will be on perspective and painting composition.

Steve Quiller April 29 – May 3, 2013

Workshop will focus on color, color relationships and harmony.

July Program - New Members

It's time for our annual New Members' Show! All members, new to NMWS within the last calendar year, are invited to bring 1-2 examples of their work to present at our July meeting. Typically, this is a popular meeting where existing members are able to get acquainted with new members by learning a little about their background and seeing representative examples of their work. Each new member will have a few minutes to present their work and share a little about their background in art and watercolor painting training. We look forward to learning about you and seeing your work!

Wonderful Opportunity

The Alternate Space Committee also known as Art Around Albuquerque has been going strong for an exciting 4 years. We've had many wonderful shows in a wide variety of community venues. The baton is new ready to be passed on. Lannie, Sue, Suzie and Mary have enjoyed getting to know many of you as well as the great people connected with our exhibit venues ie Jewish Community Center, Arts Alliance, Wooden Cow Gallery, Kimo, Albuquerque Little Theatre etc. It has been wonderful to spread our members' wonderful art far and wide throughout our community. Sales of many of your pieces have been an extra perk. Here is a reminder of what this committee does. We provide opportunities for NMWS members to display their work in non-juried venues. The committee identifies locations, announces dates/times in Brushstrokes and at monthly meetings, keeps records of people/paintings for any sales that result from our exhibits. One member sits on the NMWS Board of Directors and attends board meetings.
